Dear Judge Philips:

My name is Tristan Brooks. I am the youngest son of Rodrick Reed. I was born after he went to jail, so I have never known him outside of prison. Someday I would like to have a chance to spend time with him outside of the prison or to have long phone calls with him without a recording that says the call is coming from a federal prison. You might think that we don't have any kind of a father son relationship because he is in prison, but that's not true. He's always been in my life encouraging me, giving me advice and making sure that I spend time with my brothers. He tells me to stay away from people who are doing bad things or part of a gang. He tells me to believe in my dreams and follow them. I am going to graduate from high school next month and I am taking business courses at Cerritos Community College. I like going with my cousin to the fashion district in downtown Los Angeles to buy clothes for her business.

Sincerely,

TRISTAN BROOKS

Me and my brothers, Rodrick and Nidrick
